Local Company Recognized as CEA/CES “Integrator of the Year”
The “Oscar” of the Consumer Electronics Industry.

FulTech Solutions, a 15 year old Jacksonville based, high-technology company, has been named as the CEA/Consumer Electronics Association (think CES Show in Vegas) Mark of Excellence “Integrator of the Year” award winner. This national award recognizes the Top dealer or integrator in the electronics integration/AV industry from industry involvement, expertise, experience, industry awards over the years and quality of installations/projects. Winners were announced at a gala event, this month’s Mark of Excellence Awards dinner at the EH Expo in Orlando, Florida on March 19th.

“FulTech is honored to win this prestigious award from CEA and Electronic House Magazine. The Mark of Excellence award is the “Oscar” of our industry. Having been past winners in several other categories, it is truly an honor to be named in the top category of all integrators in the country”, says Dan Fulmer, CEO and founder of Fultech.

Since 1995, FulTech has provided top quality commercial and residential electronics integration and systems. This includes “smart home” systems, lighting control, A/V, digital signage, video conferencing, board and conference room controls, BMS/building and energy management systems and more. FulTech’s state-of-the-art showroom in Baymeadows, showcases most of the business technologies available, and is one of the most high-tech, fully outfitted, showrooms in the Southeast, having been showcased in several national publications.
